PRIME HAMS, first quality, and reasonable in price, can be had at KALBFLEISCH'S.

HOOFLAND'S GERMAN BITTERS.

AND

Hoofland's German Tonic.

THE GREAT REMEDIES

FOR ALL DISEASES OF

THE LIVER, STOMACH, OR DIGESTIVE ORGANS.

HOOFLAND'S GERMAN BITTERS

Is composed of the pure juices (or, as they are medically termed, Extracts) of Roots, Herbs, and Barks, making a preparation, highly concentrated, and entirely free from alcoholic admixtures of any kind.

HOOFLAND'S GERMAN TONIC

Is a combination of all the ingredients of the Bitters, with the purest quality of Santa Cruz Rum, Orange, &c., making one of the most pleasant and agreeable remedies ever offered to the public.

Those preferring a Medicine free from Alcoholic admixture, will use

Hoofland's German Bitters.

Those who have no objection to the combination of the Bitters, as stated, will use

Hoofland's German Tonic.

They are both equally good, and contain the same medical virtues. The choice between the two being a mere matter of taste, the Tonic being the most palatable.

The stomach, from a variety of causes, such as Indigestion, Dyspepsia, Nervous Debility, etc., is very apt to have its functions deranged. The Liver, sympathizing as it does with the Stomach, in it comes affected, the result of which is that the patient suffers from several or more of the following diseases:

CONSTIPATION, FLATULENCE, INWARD PILES, FULLNESS OF BLOOD TO THE HEAD, ACIDITY OF THE STOMACH, NAUSEA, HEART-BURN, DISGUST FOR FOOD, FULLNESS OR WEIGHT IN THE STOMACH, SOUR ERUCTATIONS, SINKING OR FLUTTERING AT THE PIT OF THE STOMACH, SWIMMING OF THE HEAD, HURRIED OR DIFFICULT BREATHING, FLUTTERING AT THE HEART, CHOKING OR SUFFOCATING SENSATIONS WHEN IN A LYING POSTURE, DIMNESS OF VISION, DOTS OR WEBS BEFORE THE SIGHT, DULL PAIN IN THE HEAD, DEFICIENCY OF PERSPIRATION, YELLOWNESS OF THE SKIN AND EYES, PAIN IN THE SIDE, BACK, CHEST, LIMBS, ETC., SUDDEN FLUSHES OF HEAT, BURNING IN THE FLESH, CONSTANT IMAGINING OF EVIL, AND GREAT DEPRESSION OF SPIRITS.

The sufferer from these diseases should exercise the greatest caution in the selection of a remedy for his case, purchasing only that which he is assured from his investigations and inquiries possesses true merit, is skillfully compounded, is free from injurious ingredients, and has established for itself a reputation for the cure of these diseases. In this connection we would submit those well-known remedies—

HOOFLAND'S GERMAN BITTERS

AND

HOOFLAND'S GERMAN TONIC.

PREPARED BY DR. C. M. JACKSON,
PHILADELPHIA, PA.

Twenty-two years since they were first introduced into this country from Germany, during which time they have undoubtedly performed more cures, and benefited suffering humanity to a greater extent, than any other remedies known to the public.

These remedies will effectually cure Liver Complaint, Jaundice, Dyspepsia, Chronic or Nervous Debility, Chronic Diarrhœa, Disease of the Kidneys, and all Diseases arising from a Disordered Liver, Stomach, or Intestines.

DEBILITY,

Resulting from any Cause whatever; PROSTRATION OF THE SYSTEM, Induced by Severe Labor, Hardships, Exposures, Fevers, &c.

There is no medicine extant equal to these remedies in such cases. Tone and vigor is imparted to the whole system, the appetite is strengthened, food is enjoyed, the stomach digests promptly, the blood is purified, the complexion becomes sound and healthy, the yellow tinge is eradicated from the eyes, a bloom is given to the cheeks, and the weak and nervous invalid becomes a strong and healthy being.

PERSONS ADVANCED IN LIFE,

And feeling the hand of time weighing heavily upon them, with all its attendant ills, will find in the use of this BITTERS, or the TONIC, a stimulant that will lend new life into the veins, restore in a measure the energy and ardor of more youthful days, build up their shrunken forms, and give health and happiness to their remaining years.

NOTICE.

It is a well-established fact that fully one-half of the female portion of our population are seldom in the enjoyment of good health; or, to use their own expression, "never feel well." They are languid, devoid of all energy, extremely nervous, and have no appetite.

To this class of persons the BITTERS, or the TONIC, is especially recommended.

WEAK & DELICATE CHILDREN

Are made strong by the use of either of these remedies. They will cure every case of MARASMUS, without fail.

Thousands of certificates have accumulated in the hands of the proprietors, but space will allow of the publication of but few. Those, it will be observed, are men of note and of such standing that they must be believed.

TESTIMONIALS.

Hon. Geo. W. Woodward,

Chief Justice of the Supreme Court of Pa., writes:

Philadelphia, March 16, 1867.

"I find 'Hoofland's German Bitters' is a good tonic, useful in diseases of the digestive organs, and of great benefit in cases of debility, and want of nervous action in the system. Yours truly,

GEO. W. WOODWARD."

Hon. James Thompson,

Judge of the Supreme Court of Pennsylvania.

Philadelphia, April 29, 1868.

"I consider 'Hoofland's German Bitters' a valuable medicine in case of attacks of indigestion or Dyspepsia. I can certify this from my experience of it. Yours, with respect,

JAMES THOMPSON."

From Rev. Joseph H. Kennard, D. D.,

Pastor of the Tenth Baptist Church, Philadelphia.

Dr. Jackson—Dear Sir: I have been frequently requested to select my name and certify recommendations of different kinds of medicines, but regarding the practice as out of my appropriate sphere, I have in all cases declined; but with a clear proof in various instances and particularly in my own family, of the usefulness of Dr. Hoofland's German Bitters, I depart for once from my usual course, to express my full conviction that, for general debility of the system, and especially for Liver Complaint, it is a safe and valuable preparation. In some cases it may fail; but usually, I doubt not, it will be very beneficial to those who suffer from the above causes.

Yours, very respectfully,

J. H. KENNARD,
Eighth, below Coates St.

From Rev. E. D. Fendall,

Assistant Editor Christian Chronicle, Philada.

I have derived decided benefit from the use of Hoofland's German Bitters, and feel it my privilege to commend them as a most valuable tonic, to all who are suffering from general debility or from diseases arising from derangement of the liver. Yours truly,

E. D. FENDALL.

"The proper study of mankind is man,"—
The most perplexing one, no doubt, is woman;
The subtlest study that the mind can scan,
Of all deep problems, heavenly or human

But of all studies in the round of learning,
From nature's marvels down to human toys,
To minds well fitted for acute discerning,
The very queerest one is that of boys!

If to ask questions that would puzzle Plato,
And the schoolmen of the middle age,—
If to make precepts worthy of old Cato,
Be deemed philosophy,—your boy's a sage;

If the possession of a teeming fancy,—
(Although, forsooth, the young'ster doesn't know it.)
Which he can use in rarest necromancy,
Be thought poetical, then your boy's a poet!

If a strong will and most courageous bearing,
If to be cruel as the Roman Nero;
If all that's chivalrous, and all that's daring,
Can make a hero, then the boy's a hero!

But changing soon with his increasing stature,
The boy is lost in manhood's riper age,
And with him goes his former triple nature,
No longer Poet, Hero now, nor Sage!

PROPOSING BY LETTER—A SAD MISTAKE.

Eleven o'clock—at least so said the golden tide of sunshine, creeping over the velvety turf of the village green, and losing itself in the murmuring foliage of the big maple trees; and so said the little clock in Judge Cornell's law office on the main street, speaking in a sharp, melodious chime.

Harry Grover glanced quietly up at the uncompromising little dial, as he entered the domain of "Coke upon Lyttleton."

"I'm late this morning," he muttered, banging up his hat behind the door; "but, as good luck will have it, the Judge has not made his appearance yet."

He was a straight, handsome young fellow, with curly brown hair, limpid hazel eyes, and a healthy flush on his sun-browned cheeks—one you could trust a l'outrance, as you looked into his frank, honest face. There are not many such—more's the pity!

"Whew—whew—whew!" whistled Mr. Harry Grover, turning over his pile of legal documents in a very unmethodical sort of way. "Law and love were never meant to go together; of that I am certain. Pretty Ariel Browne's blue eyes are shining roguishly out at me from every bit of parchment or printed blank I touch. How lovely she was last night—and who would ever suppose that the old cat with the false curls and grinning porcelain teeth could be her aunt? Rich, too, they say; a good match for some desperate fortune-hunter, who is willing to swallow the bitter pill for the sake of the gold coating. Let me see—talking of old Experience Browne, I believe I have a letter to write to her about that piece of land by the schoolhouse corners that she wants me to buy. Not I! When I purchase land for a building spot, it won't be a desolate pasture, where rocks and mullen stalks fight together to see which shall possess the staunch soil. The old lady must take me for a very unsophisticated character indeed. I wonder now if blue-eyed Ariel will ever be a wrinkled catamaran, clutching after bargains? Pooh! I should as soon think of a white-plumed little dove being transformed into a greedy vulture."

He leaned back in his chair, with both hands clasped on the top of his curly head, and looked out abstractedly into the slushy village street, humming an old tune under his breath—a tune whose burden was "Love, still love."

Plainly, Mr. Harry Grover was very little disposed for work that morning. And when, at twelve o'clock, Judge Cornell came in, there was but a hopeless chaos of papers on the table to represent his younger partner's matinal labors.

"Why, Grover, you haven't accomplished a thing this morning," said the old Judge, glancing keenly around through his antique silver bound spectacles. "I am afraid that the pretty girls at Squire Dickthron's party last night were too much for your equilibrium."

"Well, you see, sir, I've been rather sorting the papers over," said Harry, a little sheepishly, "and I have written two letters this morning."

"Two letters?"

"Yes, sir."

"May I ask to whom?"

"One to old Miss Experience Browne, about the lot she wanted to sell me—a regular clipper, giving the old hag a piece of my mind—and the other—"

"The other—"

"Ahem—that wasn't exactly a business letter. Now, Judge, suppose you and I look over these ejectment papers together!"

The Judge smiled slily; he had an idea as to what the other letter contained. Every one in town knew how hopelessly Mr. Harry Grover was in love with pretty Ariel Browne. Judge Cornell had been young himself not many years ago

"It's just as well for the lad to marry and settle down," thought the old gentleman, "and Ariel will certainly make him as sweet a little wife as human mortal could wish for."

Harry needn't have been so mysterious, sealing and directing his two letters at the tall desk behind the office door.

Judge Cornell knew just as well what was in them as if he had read every word with his own eyes. But young people have a mistaken idea that old folks don't know anything.

Miss Ariel Browne sat in her room, busy with a complicated piece of bright colored web-work that ladies call "crotchet," when Bridget tapped softly at the panels of the door.

"Please, Miss Ariel, a letter."

"A letter! and for me! Dear me, Bridget, who can it be from?"

"Faix, then, it's myself doesn't know, but Lawyer Grover's office boy brought it, and an impudent young spalpeen he is, for—"

But here Bridget became conscious that her young mistress was paying no attention to her, and withdrew into her deparment of the kitchen, there to nurse her griefs in solitude.

Ariel's cheek had turned as pink as the inside of a wild rosebud, as she read the superscription of the letter, and her heart beat perhaps a pulse or two faster than was its wont, but she broke open the missive with a resolute hand, and read:

"MY DEAR MISS BROWNE: [Rather cold beginning!" she pouted.] I must beg to decline all further negotiations with you. As you cannot for a moment seriously suppose I care to possess anything so utterly worn down and good for nothing, it is useless to waste either of our time in any more preliminaries.

"I will call this afternoon and return to you the papers you so unnecessarily took the trouble to send me.

Yours, very truly,

H. GROVER."

Ariel threw down the note, and burst into tears.

"The cold-hearted, presumptuous villain!" she sobbed "Papers, indeed! I suppose he means the note I wrote him about the pic-nic. Oh! how foolish I have been, how absurd, and I am rightly punished for my folly!"

But still Ariel wept on; when a girl of eighteen has built up a glittering castle in the air, whose foundation is in her own heart, she cannot see it dashed ruthlessly into ruins without a few natural tears.

Meanwhile, Miss Experience Browne, at fifty well ripened autumns, was reading with no little astonishment, the letter which Bridget's enemy, the postboy, had brought for her.

"U—pon my word!" exclaimed Miss Experience, slowly and emphatically. "The impertinent young fortune-hunting humbug! Does he suppose I am a born fool to swallow such a pack of sentimental flattery as this? 'Lovely eyes—dimples!' If he'd have said spectacles and wrinkles he'd have been considerably nearer right. No, you don't, my fine fellow—no—you—don't! Experience Browne hasn't lived fifty-five years in the world to fall into such a trap as this at last. 'He'll call this afternoon to receive the answer that is to decide the current of his future life,' will he? Well, let him call. I'll be ready for him, and I warrant me he won't be in a hurry to call again."

And Miss Experience chuckled to herself until all the false curls quivered as she folded the letter neatly, and put it back into its hurriedly-directed envelope.

"I never had an offer of marriage before," she thought, viewing her autumnal countenance in the pier-class, and adjusting the little puffs of ribbon in her cap-border, "and it does make one feel kind of queer! It's something to tell of, anyway. Bethuar Jones needn't go to saying now that I am an old maid because I never had an offer. I just wonder what Ariel would say. I guess I will not tell her; she would only laugh at me."

Miss Experience drew herself up as grimly as if her spinal column were a bar of iron, that afternoon, when Bridget announced:

"Mr. Grover, ma'am!"

"Show him in, Biddy—I am quite at leisure to receive him."

And our hero, entirely innocent of the impending storm that awaited him, walked into Miss Experience's awful presence, with a b

CAMPAIGN SUBSCRIBERS.

This issue of the COMPILER completes our engagement with campaign subscribers. All who desire to have the paper continued—and we trust there are many such—will please notify us before next Friday. The names of those who do not so signify will then be stricken from the list.

We beg all to remember, however, that the battle with Radicalism is not yet over. This country can only be restored to genuine peace and prosperity under Democratic rule; and so believing, we shall fight on, never doubting the ultimate triumph of the "GOOD OLD CAUSE." The readers of the COMPILER will find it, if possible, more earnest and out-spoken than ever, and none the less deserving of their patronage.

THE elections over, our readers may look for greater variety in these columns. Whilst keeping pace with the political movements of the day, the tastes of all will be catered for. The Farming and House-keeping column shall have our best attention; the first page will have much to entertain, amuse and instruct; whilst the local department shall be kept as full and fresh as possible. In no direction will effort be spared to make the COMPILER a welcome visitor everywhere, in town and country.

Though one of the very largest papers in the State, it should not be forgotten that it is published at the old price of $2 per year, in advance. Whilst our list is large, the books are still open.

How will the coming Congress meet the question of debt and revenue? Unless the latter is increased the former will be augmented in a material degree. The Radicals removed taxation from several departments of business. But this was a mere election-eering trick. Since that time the debt has mounted rapidly, and now some means must be devised to stop progress in this direction, or both the business and credit of the nation will suffer still more seriously. A reduction of the expenses would be the proper starting step. But that, the leaders of the party in power will not agree to. It would disband their organization at once. Taxation is the only feasible loophole for the Radicals, and they will have to increase the burdens of the people. How will they relish this exhibition of Radical care for the masses?

SIXTY THOUSAND FEDERAL OFFICIALS.—Said Governor Seymour in his Cleveland speech: "A short time ago, when I was in Washington, I gratified my curiosity by looking over the 'Blue Book' to see how many of these officials there are in the country, and I found that there are more than sixty thousand." These sixty thousand are the regularly appointed and registered officials and do not include the special subordinates who number thousands more. What an army of leeches to be living upon and sucking the life blood out of the productive industry and the bone and sinew of the country!

ONE of the "trooly loil" men of Georgia having recently stated in the Georgia Legislature that one hundred and sixty negroes had been killed in Stewart county, in three months, the Coroner thereof certifies that for the last two years there have been but five persons killed and one drowned. One negro killed by his wife, one by the Union League, one white man killed by the Sheriff of Marion county, and the other two the jury did not know who did the killing.

WE are told that the Radical Election Board at Petersburg took the vote of a mulatto. Can it be possible that political depravity has sunk the Republican party to so low a depth in that district? The matter calls loudly for investigation.

CESSNA'S "TEN STRIKE."—We must do John Cessna the justice to admit that he made a "ten strike" at the late election. To show our readers how it was done, we copy the following from the official returns of Bedford county:

Adams, Radical, for Surveyor, had	2968 votes.
Cessna, " " Congress, "	2858 "
Cessna's "ten strike,"	10

That is, Cessna's "ten strike" consisted in his being struck ten votes below the Radical candidate for County Surveyor.—Valley Spirit.

THE Democratic party returns at once to the conflict with Radicalism, and gives battle anew for liberty and law. With a reckless faction of Radical politicians directing the legislation of the country, and with a raw and inexperienced soldier in the chair of President, our republican institutions were never so greatly imperilled. The unceasing vigilance, courage and patriotism of the Democracy alone can preserve American liberties.—Patriot.

As the eastern-bound mail train approached Van Wert, Ohio, the engineer, Israel Adams, noticed a small child on the track. To stop in time to save it he saw was impossible, and running out on the cow-catcher, and reaching down, he caught up the child and lifted it upon the engine without injuring a hair of its head, although he was in great danger of losing his own life.

PAR ORDRE DU ROI—BY THE KING'S COMMAND.—These are the French and English titles of the two versions of Victor Hugo's new novel, to be published at an early day by D. Appleton & Co. They purchased the early sheets of M. Lacroix, who pays the author 300,000 francs. In size and literary importance the work ranks with "Les Miserables," and its appearance in Paris is anticipated with even keener interest than was that romance, owing to recent events in the life of the author which have brought his name afresh to the sympathy of his fellow-countrymen. The scene of the story is laid in England.

MASSACHUSETTS, like Oliver Twist, is always asking for more, and she gets it. The Philadelphia Ledger says: 'Massachusetts, by continual hammering, has just got $261,000 more of her 'war claims' allowed by the Treasury."

A GERMAN philosopher predicts that the continents of the Old and New Worlds will one day be submerged. Nobody, however, need be alarmed. The philosopher says that this event will take place in about five hundred million years.

EUROPE has 102,061 miles of railway in operation.

DEFEATED—BUT NOT DISMAYED.

The Democratic party, though defeated last Tuesday, will yet triumph. The people will not always be blind to the wrongs and iniquities of Radical rule. Knowledge will come by suffering, if not otherwise.

To adopt the language of the Age, it is idle at this time to speculate upon the causes which led to our defeat. Fraud, bribery, intimidation, the lavish and unscrupulous use of money, corruption in its worst forms, and open and undisguised villainy, have done their work effectually, and the apparent triumph of Radicalism to-day is stained and blackened by almost every conceivable crime in the criminal calendar. We had hoped that the masses of American freemen, who love their country, and, whatever may be the present adverse verdict, will not permit our free institutions to be sacrificed by wicked and designing partisans, would have risen in their might, and would have swept from existence the reckless crew now driving the old Ship of State upon the breakers. But although disappointed in this expectation, we do not despair of the Republic. As far as the Democratic party is concerned, the fight has only begun! From this day forth the Democracy will renew the battle, undismayed by present disaster, and unappalled by the temporary cloud which envelops them. We feel that a greater responsibility now devolves upon us than ever, to watch with zealous care the successful party, and to thoroughly expose all their mad and traitorous schemes to overthrow the Union and the Constitution. Being purely a party of principles, not wedded to men but to doctrines, the future of the great Democratic organization will be as its past—steadfast in its devotion to principle—unyielding in its advocacy of right—contesting every inch of ground with a corrupt opposition—defiant and aggressive in defeat—and unfaltering in its onward march to ultimate victory. The old flag which has so often braved the battle and the breeze, will not be lowered for a single instant. The well disciplined legions that have met disaster before and have born it, as they do now, like brave men and gallant soldiers, will not give up an inch of ground to an insolent and mercenary foe. To-day we again call the Democratic roll! To-day we again buckle on the Democratic armor! To-day, before the smoke of the battle has cleared away, before the contending armies have left the field, before the ringing shouts of the victors have died upon the breeze, we again proudly advance the Democratic banner, hopefully believing that THE RIGHT, though now obscured by Wrong, will yet prevail, and urging in all earnestness and faith our Democratic brethren, who fought so gallantly last Tuesday, to remember, that,

> The world rolls Freedom's swelling wave,
> And ripens with is sorrow;
> Keep heart!—who bears the cross to-day,
> Shall wear the crown to morrow!

GRANT IMPOTENT TO GOVERN!

A Mr. William Jones, of Neenah, Wisconsin, is stated by the Boston Evening Transcript of the 31st ult., to have recently made a political speech at the place of his residence, in which is given the subjoined epistle:

BAY VIEW, near Lanesville, Mass., } August 25, 1857. }

MY DEAR SIR: I have read your letter to Mr. Smith, upon the proposed nomination of Grant, with much interest. Its criticisms on Grant's career are just, but what will you do? You cannot get it or anything else concerning Grant that is not laudatory published, and why? Because both sides are carving him for the presidency, and so the truth must not be told. We are, I fear, to try the experiment again that we did with Johnson, i. e., nominate a man for supposed availability, without knowing his principles or fitness. Grant's election will be a misfortune because it will put in a man without a head or heart, indifferent to human suffering and impotent to govern.

I am yours truly,
BENJ. F. BUTLER.

W. Jones, Neenah, Wis.

THE ELECTIONS.

Though not full, enough returns have been received to render certain the election of Grant and Colfax. The general estimates are that they have carried Pennsylvania by 15,000, Ohio 35,000, Indiana 8,000, Illinois 50,000, Michigan 20,000, Minnesota 5,000, Missouri 8,000, Nebraska 4,000, Wisconsin 12,000, Connecticut 3,000, Rhode Island 6,000, Maine 23,000, Vermont 30,000, West Virginia 8,000, and Tennessee 20,000.

The following States have been carried for Seymour and Blair: New York by 9,000, New Jersey 3,000, Maryland 35,000, Delaware 2,000, Kentucky 75,000, Georgia 20,000, Alabama 10,000, Arkansas 5,000, Louisiana 20,000, North Carolina 5,000, South Carolina 5,000, Oregon 800—with California claimed by both parties.

Grant will probably have 183 electoral votes and Seymour 108.

PENNSYLVANIA.

The following majorities are reported from counties in this State:

For Seymour—Berks 6,000, Bucks 650, Cumberland 450, Fulton 800, Lehigh 1,900, Lycoming 225, Montgomery 1,800, Schuylkill 600, York 2,650.

For Grant—Chester 2,800, Dauphin 2,100, Erie 3,300, Franklin 200, Lebanon 1,500, Susquehanna 1,500, Lancaster 6,000, Allegheny 9,000, Union 825, Mifflin 75, Philadelphia 1,603.

JOHN T. HOFFMAN, Democrat, is elected Governor of New York by probably 20,000. The Democrats also carry the Governor of New Jersey by a handsome majority. Thus do the Democrats make gains of Governors in two important States.

GAINS.—The Democrats gained eight or ten Congressmen at the elections last Tuesday. They will also gain United States Senators in New York and New Jersey.

ALL the Democratic candidates for Congress in Maryland are elected. Hamill has 460 majority over Weisel in the Allegany, Carroll, Frederick and Washington district. A Democratic gain.

THE internal revenue receipts have fallen off fully thirty thousand dollars per day. This indicates a frightful stagnation in business. But this decline is insignificant as compared with that which will occur if the debt be still further increased and the taxation prolonged, as the Radical party desire. The resources of the land will become more and more contracted and the burden of taxation proportionately heavier and harder to bear. The financial issue is of equal importance to business men and the laboring classes.

AN apple tree at Perry Narrows, Ct., is said to be now bearing a second crop of blossoms and leaves.

MURDER NEAR HAGERSTOWN.

It has already been stated that Andrew Rowland, a farmer, residing four miles from Hagerstown, Md., was mysteriously murdered on Sunday night week. The Hagerstown Mail has the following additional particulars:

An examination of the wife of the deceased disclosed the fact (according to her statement) that Mr. Rowland had been killed about one o'clock in the night, by some one to her unknown. She stated that Mr. Rowland, accompanied by Lewis Snyder, had been to Boonsboro', during Sunday; that they had returned about half-past nine o'clock the same night; that she was in bed sleeping; that upon being waked up and asked by Mr. Rowland, she got up and prepared supper; that after they had partaken of supper some time was spent in conversation, when, about midnight, all retired for rest; that she first retired, and afterwards Mr. Rowland, and that both soon fell asleep thereafter. She then stated that she was waked by a noise and a groan from her husband; that upon calling him he failed to answer other than with a groan; that, becoming alarmed, she screamed, and, jumping out of bed, aroused her father, who had been sleeping in the third room from her's, who hastened to the spot, and heard some one stumble over a chair in his effort to escape from the house. And then followed the awful intelligence, upon a light being produced by Mr. Charles F. Gelwicks, her father. Mr. Rowland lay a bleeding, ghastly corpse, foully and brutally murdered. The testimony of all who slept in the house—Mr. Charles Gelwicks, a son and daughter of Mr. Rowland, and Lewis Snyder—was of like import, and nothing like a clue could be gained who it was that committed the foul deed. No light was thrown upon it, but from the testimony of Mr. Gelwicks it was evident that no one could have committed the deed who was a stranger on the premises, as two very cross dogs, he said, would have given the alarm.

The murder seemed so mysterious that it was deemed advisable by the physicians, Messrs. McKee, Tobey and Blake, to perform an autopsy on the deceased, to ascertain how or with what instrument he came to his death. The examination disclosed the fact that death must have resulted from a club in the hands of some one, as the left side of his face was mashed in, a deep hole having been made near the temple, and his cheek and jaw bones broken. Owing to the awful character of the murder and its mysterious nature, the jury adjourned to meet in Hagerstown when called together, without signing any verdict, in the hope that a little time would reveal some light upon the dark transaction.

Thus matters stood until the following day (Tuesday), when H. H. Keedy, State's Attorney, accompanied by Esquire Biershing and several constables, revisited the premises, and from circumstantial evidence, deemed it advisable to place Lewis Snyder under arrest, who was accordingly brought to town, and lodged in jail.

On Wednesday the jury was reconvened, when testimony of such a character was brought before it as justified the State's Attorney in ordering the arrest and lodgment in jail of Mrs. Rowland, and on the same evening she was brought to town and is now confined in the county prison. For reasons that are not deemed necessary to subserve the ends of justice, the facts that led to the arrest and imprisonment of Mrs. Rowland, as accessory to the death of her husband, are withheld for the present. The case will be brought before the grand inquest of the county, when it is to be hoped that the guilty party or parties may be ferreted out and justice meted out to them, and the innocent proved so, and acquitted. No such murder has ever been committed in this county. Such a shocking, brutal murder, in the very heart of the family circle, is so chilling to the blood that we cannot dwell upon its startling enormity. It has shocked and unnerved our entire community.

Mr. Rowland was a member of the Independent Order of Odd Fellows of this place. He had his life insured for the sum of $5,000, in the Knickerbocker Life Insurance Company, one-half for the benefit of his wife, and the remainder for the benefit of his children by his former wife. At his death, his wife would be entitled to $100 from the treasury of the Odd Fellows, besides the $2,500 insurance, which will doubtless be paid her, if her innocence is established.

We neglected to state that suspicion having been aroused that poison had been administered the deceased, the physicians have caused the stomach to be taken from the body, and despatched it to Professor Aiken, of Baltimore, for chemical analysis. The result of this investigation is not yet known.

MORE ABOUT THE MURDER.—Since our last some additional facts in relation to the murder of Andrew Rowland have been brought to light. Three negroes have been arrested and are now lodged in jail, one a woman, the wife of one of the parties charged with the murder.

Circumstances were brought to light through the untiring diligence of H. H. Keedy, Esq., the State's Attorney, aided by that able detective, Capt. William Colklesser, to the effect that Mr. Rowland had been killed by some one concealed in the house. A negro named Carrol, living in the immediate vicinity of Rowland's, was arrested and testified that a man named Harry Weaver had offered him, some time back, the sum of $500 if he would kill Rowland, but he had refused. He stated further that Mrs. Rowland had made various propositions to induce him to commit the deed, but that he refused her also, stating among other reasons that he refused because he was afraid he might fail. He was let off at first, on a small bail for his appearance at Court, but Capt. Colklesser being on the trail had Carrol re-arrested, together with his wife, both of whom were committed to jail. From the testimony of Carrol's wife, a negro man named George House was also arrested and committed to jail on suspicion of being an accomplice of Carrol's. Mrs. Carrol in her evidence stated that during the Sunday night on which the fatal deed was committed, House was there all night, possibly about midnight she waked and found that her husband was not in bed; that she got up, struck a light and found both her husband and House were not in the house; that later in the morning after she had retired, and had fallen asleep, she was wakened by her husband coming to bed, who asked her if she did not hear cries of murder, telling her to listen, that the cries were being then repeated, &c. Other evidence was adduced, which it is not proper here to report, but from the testimony thus far it is believed that the light thus far thrown upon the murder will lead to its revelation.

Since writing the above a telegram has been received announcing the fact that Capt. Colklesser, through a Pittsburg detective, had caused the arrest of Harry Weaver, at Pittsburg, for whom a warrant will be at once issued, and the Sheriff despatched with a requisition from Gov. Bowie on the Governor of Pennsylvania for the arrested party.

Mr. R. was not, as stated, an Odd Fellow at the time of his death.—Hagerstown Mail.

FRIGHTFUL ACCIDENT.—About noon yesterday a heartrending accident occurred in the hall of the Executive Chamber. A man named George Hannam, hailing from Mount Joy, Lancaster county, was in the vicinity of the Capitol all morning and was very anxious to see Governor Geary. He inquired as to his whereabouts, and was answered that he was not in his office. This did not satisfy him, however, and he went up the steps leading to the Executive Chamber, and, when up to the height of about fifteen feet, lost his balance and was precipitated over the banister down upon a tile floor. No bones were fractured, but the concussion bursted an artery in the head, causing him to bleed profusely, which led to his death in about an hour after the occurrence of the accident. An immense quantity of blood oozed from his right ear. Medical aid was promptly summoned, but the injuries sustained by him were so serious that his recovery was impossible. For some time it appeared as if his pulse was getting stronger, and faint hopes were entertained that he might withstand the terrible wound received, but they were soon dispelled by symptoms strongly indicating the near approach of death. Life struggled determinedly, but the "grim monster" proved himself the stronger, and thus another spirit wafted its flight to eternity. The poor fellow survived the fatal shock an hour. He was apparently about forty-five years of age.—Harrisburg Patriot of Tuesday.

ST. LOUIS, Mo., October 31.—Five men attempted to rob the First National Bank at Alton, Ill., early this morning. While they were at work drilling the vault, Mr. H. Fuller, a private watchman, arrested one of the parties, who was outside watching, when the remainder of them attacked the officer, cut his head dreadfully with a steel bar, and shot him through the heart, causing instant death. The robbers then escaped, leaving behind them all their tools. One thousand dollars reward is offered for the arrest of the murderers.

School Directors' Duties.—The last number of the Pennsylvania School Journal has the following sensible article on the importance of school directors visiting schools:

The duty of visiting the schools is considered one of the most important duties that directors have to discharge in the administration of the system. The law makes the duty imperative, and no person should accept the office of school director unless he is willing to perform it. When well done, its effect is always to make the schools more efficient. It encourages good teachers and exposes poor ones. It stimulates pupils in their studies. It enables directors to ascertain the exact condition of the schools, school houses and school grounds. On the whole, so high a value does the Department set upon the local supervision of the schools that it always expects to find schools of districts which are regularly and systematically visited by Boards of Directors, according to the provisions of law, other things being equal, fifty per cent. better than those of districts in which the schools are entirely neglected in this respect; and this estimate is made from personal observation in hundreds of districts.

The Lady's Friend, for November.—We take pleasure in calling the attention of our readers to this "Queen of the Monthlies," which we can assure them has no superior among the Lady's Magazines. The sweetest domestic group we have seen for many a day, smiles out from the fine steel plate in front of the present number. The colored fashion-plate is picturesque and elegant, while it is as faithful as ladies or modistes could ask; and the wood-cuts, giving full information in all departments of dress, and useful and ornamental patterns for the worktable, are beautifully executed, especially the Parisian Skating Costumes, in front. The music is the Roxborough Polka, and the literary department opens with the continuation of "Fleeing from Fate"—a striking and superior story, in Louise Chandler Moulton's highest style. "The Debarry Fortune," a very fine story, by that charming writer, Miss Amanda M. Douglas, is also continued. Then we have "Oliver Hatch—His Enemy," by Virginia F. Townsend, and fine articles by August Bell, Leslie Walter, Frances Lee, &c. The Prospectus for the next year contains unequalled in*ducements to new subscribers*, and we advise our readers to send for a specimen number (which is furnished gratis), and avail themselves of the Publishers' munificent offers. Published by Deacon & Peterson, 319 Walnut street, Philadelphia, at $2.50 a year (which also includes a large steel engraving). Four copies, $6. Eight (and one gratis), $12. "The Lady's Friend" and "The Saturday Evening Post," $4.00.

The American Farmer, Baltimore, for November, is on our table—a very interesting number, containing among others, the following articles: Seven Propositions with regard to the Economical Use of Manures—Manures the Test of Good Farming—Saving Manures—Wheat and Clover—The Yield of Wheat—Cutting Clover vs. Pasturing—Advice to Beginners in Fruit Culture—Fall Pruning of Grapes—The Strawberry Market—&c. The Farmer is published by Worthington & Lewis, Baltimore, Md., at $2 per annum.

A Southern Excursion.—We learn from the Hagerstown Mail that Mr. Daniel Dechert, one of the proprietors of that paper, contemplates making another excursion through the States of Virginia and North and South Carolina about the 18th of November, accompanied by quite a large party. Persons wishing to join the excursion will be furnished half-fare Railroad tickets from Hagerstown, and will also have the benefit of cheaper hotel bills than when traveling singly.—Those wishing to join the party should notify Mr. Dechert at once.

Seymour's majority, 253

The Democratic majority at the October election in this county was 341. The falling off is attributable to the discouraging effect of the October elections in Pennsylvania, Indiana and Ohio—an effect which was felt, with more or less force, in every quarter of the Union.

Resigned.—Rev. H. C. Grossman has resigned the New Chester Lutheran charge.

Court.—November Court will commence on Monday, the 23d, and continue two weeks. Forty-eight Traverse Jurors have been drawn for each week.

Large Yield.—From a seven acre field of Hon. James H. Marshall's farm, near Fairfield, 1,100 bushels of ears of corn have just been husked. Can York or Lancaster beat it?

Financial.—Occupied entirely with the political campaign, our financial affairs have been neglected. As a consequence, large paper bill on hand, with nothing to meet it. Friends in arrears, give us "a lift," WITHOUT DELAY.

Border Damages.—Franklin county has put in 1,504 claims, Fulton 127, Perry 5, Bedford 47, and Cumberland 132. Adams will probably have 1,000, and York several hundred. The claims in the aggregate will reach from $1,500,000 to $2,000,000.

Survey.—Lieut. W. H. Chase, of the Engineer Corps, U. S. A., is now engaged in making a topographical survey of the Gettysburg Battle-field, under orders from the War Department. By a notice in another column it will be seen that he desires the stakes and bench-marks to remain undisturbed until the survey is completed.

Monument.—The crowning statue for the Monument to be erected in the National Cemetery reached Gettysburg last week. It represents the Goddess of Liberty, and stands 12 feet high, weighing 14,000 pounds. It was modeled and cut in Italy under the supervision of the sculptor Rodgers. The monument itself will not be put up until spring.

Death from Lock-jaw.—About two weeks ago, Miss Maggie, daughter of Thomas A. Marshall, deceased, of Carroll's Tract, met with an injury in the foot by tramping on a nail in a loose lath. Causing little pain, no apprehension was felt; but on Thursday following symptoms of lock-jaw presented themselves. Prompt and unremitting medical help was given, and everything possible done for the relief of the agonized sufferer—but all without avail. She died on Sunday night. Her age was about 15 years.

Property Sales.—George Bupp recently sold his property, in East Berlin, to Nathaniel Nickey, for $2,200. Two days after Mr. Nickey sold it to W. B. Moul for $2,500.

A. W. Flemming has sold a half lot, in West Middle street, Gettysburg, to Thomas Browning, of Washington, D. C., for $150 cash.

Messrs. Beck and Bierbower have purchased the two new houses of Nicholas Weaver, on Chambersburg street, at $2,400 cash.

Hotel Improvement.—Mr. George A. Corwell, on the Chambersburg pike, near the top of the mountain, has greatly improved his hotel property. When there, recently, we were agreeably surprised with the marked change in appearance. A broad piazza across the entire front gives an air of additional comfort to the house; whilst large new stabling and shedding welcome the traveller's horse and vehicle. George is a clever landlord, and is now better prepared than ever to accommodate the public.

Arrested for Stealing.—Wm. Bloomhung and Theodore Richards, hailing from the mountain back of Emmittsburg, were arrested and lodged in jail here on Tuesday, charged with stealing a bag and flour, crout stand, &c., from Jacob Baker, at Two Taverns. They travelled in a one-horse wagon, and in addition to the above articles, had on board a bag of screenings, a bag of oats, a bag of buckwheat, &c., stolen from George Lawrence and others, along the Maryland line.

Railroad Bondholders' Meeting.—The Bondholders of the Gettysburg Railroad met in the Arbitration Room of the Court-house on Friday afternoon last. Hon. S. R. Russell was called to the chair, and E. G. Fahnestock appointed Secretary. George Swope, Esq., the Trustee, stated that the meeting had been called at the request of a number of the Bondholders, with a view to getting a more general expression of opinion on the question of foreclosing the mortgage. After discussing the matter for some time, a resolution to sell the road was adopted. Messrs. E. G. Fahnestock, W. D. Himes and D. A. Buehler were appointed a committee to take in charge the interests of the Bondholders, either in the purchase of the road entire, or the pro rata share of such as may desire to participate in the purchase. We suppose, therefore, that early steps will be taken to carry out the action of the meeting.

Another Supply.—B. C. Cobean, Chambersburg street, near the Keystone House, has just been to the city and laid in a large supply of Hats, Caps, Boots, Shoes, Notions, &c., which he can sell at reduced prices. Great variety to select from, of best manufactures. Call and be satisfied.

His stock of Harness is attractive, as heretofore, and no one can offer superior inducements. Purchasers in this line are asked to see for themselves. No trouble to show goods. nov6 3t

Get your Photographs at Tipton & Myers', where you get them the cheapest and best. Tyson's old stand.

The Morning Glory.—Col. C. H. Buehler has received a large assortment of these famous base-burning Stoves, which on the score of economy, cleanliness, easy management, and general utility, stand unrivalled and defy competition. The great demand for them last season taxed the capacity of the manufacturers to meet the demand. They are much improved and will doubtless ere long take the place of all other stoves for parlor, office, store and shop. Call and look at them, at the Wareroom on the corner of Carlisle and Railroad streets, opposite the depot.

Also, on hand a full assortment of the best varieties of COOKING STOVES, including the Spear, Noble Cook, Waverly, Oriental, Washing, Barley Sheaf, Prince Royal, Royal Cook, Excelsior, &c. &c., all WARRANTED to be good bakers. If not satisfactory, they can be returned and the money refunded. Also, a large assortment of Hollow Ware and Tin Ware, Doty's Washing Machine and Universal Wringer. Call and examine. tf

Now In The Time.—Housekeepers can economize by laying in their winter coal at once, as freights are now lower than they will be a month hence, and Coal will necessarily rise. Persons desiring to save money, will do well to call at onee on Col. C. H. Buehler, who is prepared to furnish all kinds of Stove, Blacksmith and Lime-burner's Coal at lowest market prices. tf

Hoofland's German Bitters.—There is probably no disease to which "human flesh is heir," that is more distressing in its effects than that of Dyspepsia, and kindred Diseases arising from disorders of the Liver and Digestive Organs, and it is this fact, probably, which has caused the preparation of the American remedies now before the public. Among these remedies are Dr. Hoofland's German Bitters, which has been prominently before the public for years, and which has received the highest testimonials from thousands of our citizens, who have tested its efficiency in diseases of the character referred to. It has also received the highest commendation from Physicians who have used it in their practice, with complete success. The Hoofland's Bitters is as strictly medicinal preparation, and contains no alcohol, rum, or whiskey.

Hoofland's German Tonic is a combination of all the ingredients of the Bitters, with pure Santa Cruz Rum, orange, anise, &c. It is used for the same diseases as the Bitters, in cases where an Alcoholic Stimulant is necessary. It is a preparation of rare medicinal value, and most agreeable to the palate. APPRAISEMENT OF DAMAGES.

NOTICE is hereby given that the undersigned, Commissioners to appraise the Damages under the Act of April 9, 1868, entitled "An Act for the Relief of Citizens of the County of York, Perry, Adams, Cumberland, Bedford, Fulton and Franklin, whose property was destroyed, damaged, or appropriated for the public service, and in the common defence in the war to suppress the Rebellion," will meet for the purpose of complying with the provisions of said Act,

AT GETTYSBURG, on TUESDAY and WEDNESDAY, Nov. 10th and 11th

The Commissioners want it distinctly understood that no claims will be made for Blank Abstracts. The petitions are prepared by Claimants at their own expense, and are not furnished by the Board. Persons can prepare their claims at the place of meeting most convenient.

The following rules will be strictly adhered to in the adjudication of claims by the Commissioners:

1.—Applicants for damages will apply to the Clerk, either in Gettysburg, or at Harrisburg, who will furnish them with blank Abstracts, which will be filed in addition to the detailed statement.

2.—Applicants will be required to make out a detailed statement of their losses, classifying and enumerating the different articles, and giving their different values.

3.—They will also be required to state the time, place, manner, and direct causes of their losses, and whether they were caused by the depredations of the rebels, the demands of the Government, or the excesses of the Union soldiers.

4.—All claims for losses must be proved by one or more respectable witnesses in addition to the oath of the petitioner.

5.—When claims have been assigned two witnesses in addition to the oath of the assignee will be required.

6.—Assignees claiming damages will be required to prove the actual cash value of the consideration paid to the assignor.

7.—All correspondence relating to claims should be directed "Damage Commissioners," care of M. W. McALARNEY, Harrisburg, P

Farming and Housekeeping.

FEEDING WITH PROFIT.

"In feeding stock, as in feeding land, judgment and good management are required. If any one supposes that he may resort to a system of temporary stuffing as a substitute for constant attention and regular feeding through the year, let him learn at once his mistake. Nor will feeding alone be sufficient, even if prudently attended to, unless cleanliness and ventilation, and all the circumstances that conduce to the animal's comfort and well being, be looked after.

"Pigs," says an English paper, "enjoy the reputation of having a real liking for dirt, and certainly the way in which they are kept on some farms shows that their owners are determined to give them opportunities for carrying out this liking. No notion can, however, be more erroneous than this, none is certainly so productive of loss to the keeper. Let any one not convinced of this, try the two modes of keeping—the dirt and the clean—give food in both cases, and other general treatment, being the same, and the result will show him which of the two is best in the end."

So that besides good and regular feeding, pigs must be kept clean, notwithstanding their reputation for love of filth—a reputation which is misunderstood, as any one might know who could observe their cleanly habits when they have room enough allowed them.

Then, a great deal depends on the mode in which they are housed, to have them feel profitably. A careful manager adopts this method. A large pighouse is enclosed at the two sides, so as to be warm and dry—the floor is paved, and sprinkled over with burnt clay, and ashes obtained by burning weeds. In this the pigs are fed; while for resting and sleeping they have a compartment railed off at the other end, and which is amply provided with clean straw.

Straw, if allowed to get damp and mouldy, is very apt to engender mange or skin disease, but treated as above the straw is kept dry, and enables the animal to keep his skin thoroughly clean. The manner in which one is housed give him comfort, cleanness, fresh air, and every necessary condition for his well doing. As to the feeding, the same care which looks to the animal's comfort in other respects, will see that he is not half starved through a portion of his existence and stuffed for the rest.

The most profitable feeding is that which is fairly distributed through his whole life. He must be well and abundantly fed with good food, so that he may grow and fatten continually, and make the best of every day he lives. It is a mistake to suppose that very abundant feeding is necessary to keep up this steady, continual growth. The same quantity of rich and fattening food is used much more advantageously given in moderate quantities through a longer period of time.

It has been especially remarked of beef cattle, by the most experienced feeders, that any attempt to force by extravagant feeding, is so much waste of food. A feeder who practiced careful weighing of his fattening cattle every week, found that a daily supply of four quarts of barley meal to a fine Cheer gave a weekly increase in weight, averaging eighteen pounds. A neighbor advised him to push him, and eight quarts were accordingly fed daily. The weekly increase of flesh was less than when he received four quarts. The amount being increased to twelve quarts per day, he gained nothing at all. This is not a solitary case, for it is sustained by the experience of intelligent feeders, that a moderate supply of food, given at stated and regular periods, is much more productive of flesh and fat than attempts at quick feeding with excessive supplies. Is the philosophy of it is, that in this case a large portion of the food passes undigested, and the organs, from being over taxed, may become incapable of digesting enough for the proper nourishment of the animal.

Let it not be supposed, then, that, on land or animals, extravagant expenditure can be substituted for careful, every day management.

HOME-MADE MATS.

A lady correspondent of the Vermont Farmer gives the following directions for making mats from the smallest bits of cloth left after cutting out clothes, in preparing the materials for rag carpets: Pieces over an inch square are too large, so it can easily be seen that this way of making rugs will use up the pieces otherwise of no account except for the rag bag. These little bits must be strung on a cord, the edges being raveled out so as to present a soft furry appearance, and bound and sewed like the braids in a braided mat; it will be difficult to distinguish it from chenile work. In regard to colors, you must consult your own taste. The style called 'hit or miss,' in which you use all colors indiscriminately, as they are most convenient, has often a very good effect, if plenty of bright colors are used; in any other case it is too apt to have a muddy look. Decided contrasts or shades of the same color are better in most of this description."

SOAP.—Get from a druggist a pint of concentrated lye for forty cents. Empty contents into a gallon of boiling water. Let it have ten hours to dissolve. Then empty it into a boiler, and another gallon of water, and when the two gallons boil, pour in four pounds of liquid grease, stirring it till until thoroughly mixed. Let it simmer for four or six hours, and half an hour before taking it off a gallon of hot water may be added. Two tablespoonfuls of pulverized borax and four of rosin add greatly to its detersive qualities; but a teacup full of salt must be thrown in. When thought done, dip in a case knife, and if the grease drops clear, ropy and chills quickly it is soap. Empty it into a wash tub having the sides wet, and in a few hours you will have twenty-five pounds of hard white soap ready to be used for use.

SHORT RULE FOR MEASURING CORN.—An exchange says: It is convenient to farmers and croppers to have an easy and correct rule by which to measure corn in cribs. Here is one—having leveled the corn in the crib, measure the length, breadth, and depth, and multiply them together, and deduct from the product one-fifth; that is, if you have the number of bushels in the ear—for shelled corn take one-fifth of this. To be strictly correct, only half a bushel for every one hundred. Farmers who are fond of cyphering can test the correctness of the rule by taking 1,728 solid inches for a cubic foot, and 2,150 inches for a bushel, and see that the latter is nearly one-fifth larger than the former.

KISSINGER & SHIREMAN,

NO. 2 WEST MARKET STREET,
YORK, PA.,

AGENTS AND DEALERS IN
PIANOS, CABINET ORGANS, MELODEONS, AND MUSICAL INSTRUMENTS,

respectfully inform the public that they are prepared to furnish Pianos of the following manufacture or of any other make that may be preferred:

Albright, Retike & Schmidt, Chickering & Son, Bradbury, Knabe & Son, Gale & Son,

ESTEY'S CELEBRATED
COTTAGE, HARMONIC AND BOUDOIR
ORGANS AND MELODEONS.

These Instruments stand unrivalled by any thing found in this country or in Europe, as is admitted by all impartial judges. The most eminent Pipe Organ Builders and Performers, the last to this over excellence in reed tone, pronounced them vastly superior to all others for exceedingly quick articulation and round Tone, the essential feature in instruments of this class. We invite the severe scrutiny and criticism of all.

PATENT VOX HUMANA TREMOLO.

This late and most wonderful invention (so acknowledged by all leading artists) will be found only in the Estey Instruments. In attempting to describe the effect of this stop, we are at loss for language. Its beauties cannot be written, but must be heard to be appreciated. By this add an ordinary performer can produce an effect which requires a life time of practice for an artist upon a violin. It entirely changes the reed tone, giving the sympathetic sweetness of the human voice, making it so melodious and pure that it never fails to enchant the listener.

THE HARMONIC ORGAN

for Churches, Public Halls and Parlors has a powerful sub-Bass with independent reeds, Harmonic attachment and Vox Humana Tremolo, and is believed to be the most powerful reed organ made, being nearly equal to a Pipe Organ of three times the cost.

All instruments warranted for five years.

☞BRASS BANDS supplied with instruments and music at reasonable terms.

A liberal discount allowed for Churches and Sabbath Schools.

☞Instructions given both in Vocal and Instrumental Music, at our rooms, and at pupils' homes, either to individuals or classes, on reasonable terms.

McGUIRE'S
SPANISH HAIR DRESSER,

FOR Promoting the Growth, Beautifying the Hair, and rendering it dark and glossy. No other compound possesses the peculiar properties which so exactly suit the various conditions of the human hair. The use of this oil as a hair dresser has been universal in every section of the country in the Spanish Main for centuries. No preparation of art could give that elegant luxuriance and abundance of hair which has also been the admiration of travelers in Spain. This oil is highly
